Dear Sara,

I view this year as a time for focus. It is important to set a plan of action and stay with it. Do not allow yourselves to become distracted. There is nothing more important than your goal. Remember, the way to actualize something into a reality you must implement these three variables: intention, goal and story. This is the only way to bring what you imagine into the 3rd dimension. Continue to make every indefatigable effort to find your center. This is truly where your power is. Continuing to do the truth in love, hetero or same sex. This seminar is for people who ask "why marriage" and "why marriage after 50?" if we are not interested in amphimexis (procreation.)

Kurt Hill

People are realizing that old stereotypes and standards do not apply to today's expectations of relationship and/or marriage. Many of us are willing to postpone relationship intimacy until later in their lives. However, it appears that intimacy is something that today's community is desperately seeking but unfortunately not finding.

Join us for a provocative look at relationships - whether we are just beginning or entrenched in middle age with more than one or two less-than-perfect relationships under our belts.

The text we'll be following is the Stephanie Coontz "History of Marriage", John Gray's "What We Feel, We Can Heal", Harville Hendrix "On Getting the Love You Want" and "The History of the Penis - A Mind of It's Own."

With discussion and interactive work, this seminar is not only about why, but how to. Moderated by Kurt Hill and Sara Davenport.

Date: Saturday, January 13, 2007

Time: 2:00 to 5:00 PM

Location: Holistic Health Practice,
One East Superior Street, Suite 307

Cost: $45 for individuals $75 for couples

Sara Speaks

Happy New Year! We hope that you had a safe and joyful holiday season. In this time of new beginnings, we wish you the opportunity for closure on those things that you want to let go of. Also, the strength and commitment for those you want to embrace at this time. Keep your goals close at hand and heart. Ask for support should you need it. And don't forget to build in a little R&R. We all need a break sometime. Good luck!
